

Move freely.
Work with greater ease.
Increase your productivity.

Whether you're telecommuting, running a home business, organizing a volunteer project, or taking care of the kids, the Blue Parrott B100 headset sets you free to move around while you're on the phone, leaving your hands free for other tasks.

Connect the Blue Parrott B100 to your home telephone wall jack and you'll be able to answer or end a call remotely simply by pushing a button on your headset. To make a call, simply dial the number on any corded or cordless phone, push a button on the headset and go. The Blue Parrott base provides range of up to 75 feet, ensuring quality audio at a greater distance than the standard Bluetooth transmission.

For every busy work-at-home professional or stay-at-home parent.
