

BlueParrott M300-XT

Can I use my BlueParrott headset with devices that have older Bluetooth versions?

Our Bluetooth headsets are designed to, and meet the Bluetooth standard. If your phone is relatively recent and has Bluetooth capability, it should work with our headsets. Bluetooth is a backwards-compatible standard, which means that the Bluetooth version in the controlling device (smartphone) should be as high as, or higher than the Bluetooth version in the headset for it to function as expected.